American B-24 D

"Chug-alug" was a B-24D with the 98th BG 15th AF in April, 1944. Colour scheme is Sand over azure blue. Note that the national markings had recently had bars and blue outlines added. The original blue star "discs" are very faded.

Australian B-24 L

"Penelope II" was a natural metal B-24M flown by Flt. Lt. W. Butlers with 21 Squadron RAAF. War time photographs of the aircraft show it is in surprisingly clean condition. Anti-glare panel is olive drab and propeller hubs are natural metal. Note that national markings are 46" rather than 48".

General Instructions

Ventura Decals are printed thinly for a painted on look. Dip each design into water for a few seconds, then leave to stand on a non absorbent surface. At first the decal will curl up, then uncurl. This indicates the design has loosened and will slide. Apply carefully to a gloss painted surface and position with a minimum of moving about. The common "silvering" problem with decals is usually caused by excessive moving washing away the decals glue.

Australian B-24's wing markings. Worn in this location above and below both wings.

American B-24's wing markings, worn above port and below starboard wings.
