Spitfires from the 145 sqdn. are normally depicted with Blue/White codes. Look at reference 2, page 15 and decide for yourself. We believe them to be the same Roundel Red as in the insignia. Your choice, both options provided.

Modeler Note:

Most of the time we only have pictures of one side of the A/C. We always look through several reference books trying to find the other side of the specific plane or at least of another one from the same sqdn. from about the same time frame. Of course this is not a fail safe remedy, since at times the roundel/code sequence within the same sqdn. was reversed. If the text reads "believed to" it means we have been unsuccessful at locating the right information and the shown order is our educated guess. If you disagree, simply cut the codes off the decal and reverse them. If you have concrete information (pictures), please send us copies to complete our files.
