362nd FG Jugs

P-47D-30-RE Thunderbolt 44-29737 Gooch, 377th FS, based at Prunnes, Ezance (A-79), during September, 1944. Finished Natural Metal overall with Olive Drab antiglare panel. Black rudder trim tab and ETO ID bands on vertical and horizontal tail surfaces. Red fin cap, nose band, and spinner. Note the D-Day stripes on lower fuselage have the black and white bands reversed. No underwing invasion stripes or extra national insignia under left wing. Right side reads D-E4.

All these A/C were equipped with Curtiss Electric asymmetric paddle blade props.

Pt. II

P-47D-30-RA Thunderbolt 44-33522 Why Pick On Me??. Flown by Lt Robert McCormack, 379th FS, 362nd FG, based at Rouvres, France (A-82) in early 1945. Aircraft Natural Metal overall with Olive Drab antiglare panel. Black ETO ID bands on vertical and horizontal tail surfaces. Yellow cowl and spinner; tip of vertical tail painted Red. Wheel hubs may have been Yellow. Note dorsal fin. Right side reads N-O-B8. Red circles probably denoted battle damage to be repaired. A/C showed them at the time our photo was taken. Apply decal 12 first, then fit decal 13a around 12.

P-47D-25-RE Thunderbolt 42-26470 Chuck's Wagon / Victory 1st. Flown by Lt Charles Mann, 377th FS, also based at Rouvres during early 1945. Finished Natural Metal overall with Olive Drab antiglare panel. Red fin cap, cowl, and spinner. Black ETO ID bands on vertical and horizontal tail surfaces. Red and Black design applied to main wheel hubs. Note the rear view mirror. It is not confirmed that Chuck's Wagon had the dorsal fin retrofit as shown. Right side reads T-O-E4.
